

James and Ali ~ Happy Valentine's Day!!

As you know, over the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday, EJami fans from Forbidden Love (http://z9.invisionfree.com/ejami_fans/) participated in a campaign that supported St. Jude's Children's Hospital to show our love, appreciation, and support for everything that you both have done to bring the story of EJami so beautifully to the screen. At that time we knew that Ali had supported St. Jude's in the past and we felt that it would be a good choice for our first charity campaign.

For Valentine's Day, we have chosen to support the World Wildlife Federation and their amazing work in protecting animals and their habitats. We know that James loves animals and we hope that you do too Ali because we have "adopted" two animals on your behalf from the WWF. These are symbolic adoptions; the money doesn't necessarily go directly towards helping the animals chosen but rather it goes to the WWF to help where they feel are the greatest needs around the world.

Our members voted and the two animals chosen were a tiger for Ali and a gray wolf for James. The beauty and symbolism of both animals represent the two of you and your characters. We hope you enjoy the gifts included with your adoption papers!

Thank you so much for your dedication to your work and for making Days worth watching!

Much love to you both on this holiday of LOVE and ROMANCE ~

The EJami Fans at Forbidden Love
http://z9.invisionfree.com/ejami_fans/

The Tiger is a fiery animal whose unpredictable nature is complemented by its beauty and underlying tenderness toward her children. These magnificent animals are a complex mix of power, beauty, and humanity. People who have the spirit of the Tiger within them are considered very loyal, loving and sensual, Much like Sami when she is trying to be "good", a caged tiger paces nervously and lashes out at its first opportunity. In Asian cultures, the tiger represents competence, charm and courage. Tigers are believed to be capable of great love but they are stubborn with their enemies just as Sami has always been with those who have betrayed her.

The Gray Wolf is mysterious and revered in cultures throughout the world and time. In classical antiquity, the wolf was thought of as a “ghost animal” whose very gaze could strike people speechless much like EJ’s gaze when he looks at Samantha and stares straight into her soul. Much European wolf lore is pervaded by a fearsome awe, and although fear of wolves, and DiMeris, is a natural human reaction, the friendly wolf appears fairly frequently in myths and legends as well, indicating that the animal awakens ambivalent responses, just as we feel EJ has awakened the true spirit inside Sami. Wolves are both feared and loved and they are also seen as fiercely loyal.

Across different cultures, both the tiger and gray wolf represent strength and ferocity of spirit. These qualities are shared by Sami, EJ and EJami fans alike. We are standing strong in our love for EJami because along with EJ, we know that Sami is a tiger not a lamb and because despite the qualities in EJ that make us fear what he might do next, we love him and know that he is the right man for Sami because even though neither character is perfect, they are most certainly, the perfect pair!

“We humans fear the beast within the wolf because we do not understand the beast within ourselves.”

~ Gerald Hausman

“Even the most brilliant tiger's stripes fade behind the bars of a cage but the mischief in her eye never dies.”

~ Jane Kennedy